

The Winchester Appeal

WINCHESTER:

SATURDAY, JUNE 7TH, 1856.

TELEGRAPHIC.

CINCINNATI, June 1.—Great excitement. The friends of all the candidates are confident.

The Missouri Bentonian delegates were excluded by the national committee to whom the question was submitted. The New York contestants will go before the convention; it is intimated the convention will compel them to compromise by refusing to receive either. The Mississippi delegation have decided to vote for Quitman. The Buchanan men assert that the Summer assault gained Buchanan 20 votes. A resolution will be introduced to exclude office-holders from future conventions.

CINCINNATI, June 2.—The Convention assembled at 12 o'clock. Samuel Medary was appointed temporary chairman. The Missouri delegation forced their way into the Convention amid great uproar, excitement and fighting. They were all allowed to take their seats and quiet was restored.

CINCINNATI, June 2nd.—The two New York delegations not agreeing both were refused admission. A Committee on credentials was appointed consisting of one from each State. Richardson of Illinois in alluding to the violent entrance of the Missouri delegation said the Convention must protect itself against insult and violence. Hall of Missouri attempted to justify. The chairman refused to recognize him and finally the Benton delegation withdrew amid loud cheers.

To the committee on organization one from each State was appointed. E. J. Moore represented Louisiana.

In the committee on resolutions Pierre Soule represented Louisiana.

After other unimportant business, amid great confusion, the Convention adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Mr. Bright being absent, Mr. Stewart took the Chair and laid before the Senate a message from the President, in relation to affairs in Central America, which had already been published.

A letter from Preston S. Brooks to Mr. Bright was laid before the Senate in which he disclaims any intention of offending against the privileges of the Senate by his assault on Sumner.

The letter was read, laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

Adjourned till Thursday.
House.—Mr. Campbell, of Ohio, from the select Committee, appointed to investigate the circumstances attending the assault on Sumner, reported the following resolutions:

Resolved, That Preston S. Brooks be, and is, forthwith expelled from the House as representative from the State of South Carolina.

Resolved, That this House hereby declare disapprobation of said act of Henry A. Edmundson and Lawrence M. Keitt, in regard to said assault.

Signed—Campbell, of Ohio, Skinner and Pennington.

Mr. Howell Cobb submitted a minority report, arguing that no breach of privilege under the Constitution had been committed, and that the House had no power to go beyond the Constitution. Both reports were laid on the table, and ordered to be printed. Adjourned.

Great Story.—The following "thrilling story," although not of the highest merit in a literary point of view, may serve as an amusing theme for lovers of "puzzles" to exercise their ingenuity:

We once saw a young man gazing at the "ry heavens, with a f in i and a ~ of pistols in the other.—We endeavored to attract his at 10 tion by ing to a f in a paper which we held in our p, relating to a young man in that f of our country who had left home in a state of derangement. He dropped the f and pistols from his p with the "It is I of whom U read. I had left home b4 my friends knew of my design. I had s0 the p of a girl who had refused 2 lis10 to me, but smiled upon another. I —d madly from the house, uttering a wild ! to the god of love, and without replying to the ? of my friends, came here with this f & ~ of pistols to put a ~ to my existence. My case has no f in the f

THE ELOPEMENT.

They locked me in an upper room,
And took away the key,
Because I would not marry one
Who never suited me.
They did not know the female heart,
Or they had clearly seen
That locks were never made to keep
A girl of seventeen.

They had a gilded cage in view,
And thought the bird secure,
Surrounded by the guards of power
And every artful lure.
They never thought of counterplots,
In any one like me,
And little knew what I would do,
For love and liberty.

They wanted me to "marry rich,"
Unmindful of the means—
To couple me with wealth and age
While I was in my "teens,"
But being otherwise "engaged,"
No coaxing could prevail,
For I preferred to please myself,
And wouldn't be "for sale."

The night was dark, the window raised—
How could I answer no?
When that might be my only chance,
And Charley tens'd me so.
A railroad station being near,
A carriage waiting by—
And such an opportunity
What could I do but fly?

Not being fond of solitude,
I had for me no charms,
While I could knot a silken cord
To reach a lover's arms.
"Resolved, therefore," I would not stay
To be imposed upon;
So, while they thought they had me, I
Was "going, going—gone."

Good Advice.—If you require a person to become security for you, don't ask the man who promised he would do anything for you when he knew that you didn't want anything done.

If you happen to know an author don't own it; one half of the world won't believe you and the other half won't think much of it if they do.

Don't tell a mother of the faults of her favorite child.

A Puzzle.—Here is some good advice in the following puzzle. We find it in an old paper. Our readers can solve it, and feel the point, if they will:

STATE OF TENNESSEE.

Chancery Court at Manchester.

May Rules, 1856.

The Bank of Tennessee,

vs.

A. A. Ship, and others.

IT appearing to the satisfaction of the Clerk and Master, from the allegations in the bill which is sworn to that the defendant, A. A. Ship, resides in the State of Texas, it is therefore ordered by the Clerk & Master that publication be made for four successive weeks in the Winchester Appeal, a newspaper published in the town of Winchester, Tenn., requiring said non-resident defendant to appear at the next term of our Chancery Court to be held in the town of Manchester, Tennessee, on the third Monday in August next, 1856, then and there to plead, answer or demur to said bill or the same will be taken for confessed against him.

And it appearing to the satisfaction of the Clerk & Master that the defendants Elijah Reynolds, F. M. Boyd, and Coleman Blanton were regularly served with the ordinary process of this Court more than five days before the last term of this court, and that they have failed to plead answer or demur to complainants' bill, it is therefore ordered, adjudged and decreed by the Clerk that the same be taken for confessed and set down for hearing exparte as to them.

EAST TENNESSEE MARBLE WORKS,

BY CHARLES SCHMITT,

Knoxville, Tennessee.

Continues the business of Marble Manufacturing at the old stand, adjoining William Ingle's Mills and Ware Rooms, on Cumberland Street, opposite the Coleman House, and west of Coffin's old stand, where he keeps constantly on hand a large assortment of work, such as Monuments, Tombs, Grave-stones, Statuary, Fountains and Urns, of the latest style, and of the finest and best East Tennessee Marble, which is highly spoken of here and elsewhere.

He has had experience in Marble Manufacturing for the last twelve years, especially in the largest cities of Europe, and in the United States; he flatters himself that he feels able to fill all orders concerned with the above business to a satisfaction, at short notice and cheaper than the cheapest.

Drawings of the above work will be sent to any Post Office in the State; so persons abroad have a chance to purchase by letter, as well as if they were here personally.

The East Tennessee Marble Works received the premiums offered by the Fairs held at London, Tenn., October 23d, 1855, and at Knoxville, October 30th, 1855, for the best work in Marble.

Refer to James Harris, C. R. Embrey, B. S. Templeton, Nathan Frizzell, and others, in Winchester. C. M. FARMER, agent for Franklin county.

Particular attention will be paid to boxing and packing for transportation.
